WESLEYAN MEET TOMORROW.

Hopes of the Closest Contest in Recent Years.

Tomorrow afternoon comes the great event of the track season—the meet with Wesleyan. It is scheduled to start at 2.30 p. m., on Trinity Field. The Trinity squad has been working faithfully this week, and improvement has been made in all branches. Each team has lost two meets thus far, Wesleyan having succumbed to Williams and to Brown by the respective scores of 64 to 62 and 68 to 58, while the Gold and Blue has been defeated by Maine and Bowdoin by the scores of 71 to 55 and 74 to 52. By comparative scores, Wesleyan seems to have the advantage. Whoever wins, however, the meet is certain to be one of the best ever seen on Trinity Field, as Captain Wessels has worked unusually hard and has produced an enthusiastic and industrious squad to represent the local college. Wesleyan will send over about twenty men to compete.

The supporters of the red and black are counting heavily on the work of Captain Wendell, intercollegiate hurdle champion, and Trinity will undoubtedly have to be content with second and third places in the two events. Hudson, Trinity's star all-around athlete, who has been high point man on every meet since he has been in college, will be pitted against the Wesleyan captain, and he and Hall are expected to lead the rest of the Wesleyan hurdlers.

The visitors have two strong sprinters in Deetjen and Irving. First and second places will have to be conceded to them in both the dashes. For Trinity, Lyon, Mitchell, and Young are showing up especially well, along with the veteran Hudson.

Trinity's crack squad of distance runners ought to even up things a bit. Crehore, who has sent two records by the board this year, will be heavily relied upon, and Wessels is sure to make things interesting in the half mile. Spofford will give a good account of himself in the distance runs.

Hall and Furnivall are Trinity's fastest quarter-milers. Furnivall has not been in the best physical condition this season, but has been working hard this week to whip himself into shape.

The outcome of the high jump and pole vault are both uncertain. Trinity contains a strong trio of broad jumpers in Hudson, Sage, and Perkins, and ought to get the biggest end of the score in this event. Parkinson and Bernhardt are Wesleyan's best weight men. Hudson with the aid of Edsall, J. A. Moore, and D. Howell, will give them a lively tussle for highest honors.

The officials chosen for the meet are as follows: Referee, Christopher Scaife, Hartford Y. M. C. A.; starter, Frank Coburn, I. A. A. C.; clerk of course, Harvey Pond, '08; timers, Professor Gettell, Dr. Swan, and W. S. Marsden, '13; track judges, Mr. Cushman, Prof. Flynn, and S. P. Maynard; field judges,

CHANGES IN FACULTY.

New Professors To Take Chairs of Biology and Romance Languages.

The opening of the fall term this year will see at least two changes in the faculty since the previous term. Prof. Frederick Walton Carpenter will be the J. Pierpont Morgan professor of biology, and Prof. L. Galpin will be at the head of the department of romance languages. Prof. Carpenter has been for several years a member of the faculty of the University of Illinois. A graduate of New York University, he also received his M. A. at Harvard in 1902, and his doctorate there two years later. He has studied in Berlin and Munich, is now the American editor of two German biological journals, and has a growing reputation among the leaders in his department of study.

Prof. Galpin has for several years been associate professor of romance languages at Amherst. He graduated from Western Reserve University in 1901, and taking up graduate study at Yale, received his M. A. in 1902 and his Ph.D. in 1904. Since then, besides his professional duties, he has been the author of several articles in the publications of the Modern Language Association, in the Romantic Review, and in Modern Language Notes.

Both gentlemen are expected in Hartford late in August or early in September.

Football Training Camp.

Captain Peter Paul Lawlor, '14, of next season's football team has made out the list of men who are to go to the training camp on September 13th. Last season's training grounds at Madison cannot be obtained this time. Lakeville may be the location finally settled upon. Besides the men on the list that follows, several undergraduates will go, paying their own expenses, and a few sub-freshmen have been invited. The list is as follows: Captain Lawlor, J. A. Moore, Hudson, Sage, Wessels, D. Howell, Kinney, Hall, B. L. Smith, Castator, Cole, Lambert, Meyer, Wooley, and Lyon.

Senior Assembly.

The date for the Senior Assembly has been tentatively set for Monday, the twenty-sixth. As the plans are now, there will be eighteen dances, with the music provided by Sutherland's orchestra. The dance will be very informal. No taxis will be allowed, and the men are expected to dress in white flannels with dark coats. The committee in charge of the affair is composed of Eliot L. Ward and Russell C. Noble.

Professor Rogers, J. B. Moore, '13, C. H. Collett, '13, A. B. Cook, '13, R. W. Thomas, '13; announcer, H. S. Roberts, '14; scorers, S. H. Evison, '13, T. C. Brown, '15.

COLLECTION OF SEASHELLS.

Wright, '10, Sends Thirty-nine Species from China.

Richardson L. Wright, '10, has recently sent to the natural history department a collection of thirty-nine species of seashells gathered by him near Rokotan Hanshigoni and Dairen, South Manchuria. The collection has been identified by the experts of the British Museum and will be put on exhibition in the college natural history museum as soon as Professor Morse has it completely arranged.

Tennis With Amherst.

The tennis team will play away from home next Saturday at Amherst. Chances for a victorious outcome seem very favorable, for although Amherst has tied the Dartmouth team, it only succeeded in halving its match with the Springfield Y. M. C. A., which Trinity defeated easily.

There is some doubt whether Edsall, '15, will be able to make the trip on account of a conflict with the Wesleyan track meet. If he does go, the team will be made up of himself, Captain Burgwin, Ward and Barnett, otherwise a fourth man will be chosen from Squire, '15, Howell, '15 and Mitchell, '16.

I. K. A. 8, St. Anthony Hall 3.

On Monday afternoon, May the 12th, the I. K. A. team defeated St. Anthony Hall's nine 8 to 3. Usher pitched a good game for the I. K. A., and received able support. For St. Anthony's however, Thomas was not in his best form, being touched for eight hits and passing six men. At the start the game was slow, but after several innings the I. K. A. settled down and played a consistent game with a batting rally in the sixth.

The score by innings:

I. K. A.,	0 0 0 2 2 4 x—8 8 2
St. Anthony Hall,	1 0 0 2 0 0 0—3 4 4
Batteries,	Usher and Meyers, Thomas and Stites.
Umpire,	L'Heureux, '13.

Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN.

Over Three Hundred Dollars Raised for Secretary Fund.

The campaign to raise funds for a general secretary of the college branch of the Y. M. C. A. is progressing steadily. The sum now pledged is $330 and the committee in charge is launching an appeal for the coöperation of the alumni this week, and it is hoped that they will respond by contributing what they can. The committee realizes that this is perhaps the worst time to start such an appeal, following as it does upon the general appeal for the endowment fund, but instant action seems necessary if the organization is to become a real and vital part of the college life. Perhaps an extract from the petition of the members of the organization to the trustees, for their approval and sanction may not be out of place here, chiefly that the alumni may realize what the real situation is in regard to the present condition and needs of the college branch of the Y. M. C. A.:

"The Trinity branch was organized in the fall of 1910 through the efforts of two of the traveling secretaries of the Young Men's Christian Association. From small beginnings made by the students, the enthusiasm for and the work of the branch has steadily increased. Frequent religious meetings conducted by the students have been held and Bible and mission-study classes have been conducted chiefly under the direction of Mr. Walter B. Briggs, the college librarian, and by certain graduate students.

"The Association has each year made a special effort to welcome and help new students, and through its efforts many have been interested to associate themselves actively with church, Sunday school and social service work in Hartford. The work of the branch during the present (the third) year has been especially encouraging, and the interest has been deepened throughout the college body. It is strongly felt, however, that further development and efficiency cannot be hoped for without the assistance of a trained worker similar to those that are in residence at Yale, Amherst, Wesleyan, and in fact, the great majority of the colleges.

"Among the duties of such a secretary would be to make a religious canvass of the college at the beginning of the year, to organize and conduct Bible and mission-study classes; to bring men into close touch with the religious and social service work of the city, to stimulate interest in attendance of the students at religious and Young Men's Christian Association conferences, such as Northfield and Silver Bay, to assist needy students in securing employment, and in general, to be a counselor of the students, and a help to them in their proper religious and moral development."

The undergraduate committee composed of Horace Fort, John B. Moore and J. S. Moses, would be glad to hear from the Alumni if any further information is desired.

"NOW THEN TRINITY"

Alumni Help Needed.

Elsewhere in this issue is a statement of the sum pledged towards the Y. M. C. A. secretary fund. Judging from the generous way in which the students have responded to the appeal for financial aid, it is evident that the value of such a man is realized here at college. If the alumni will now step forward and contribute with their usual liberality, the success of the campaign is assured. Without the aid of the alumni the Y. M. C. A. will be forced to abandon the project. A very small amount from each alumnus would assure the success of the plan.

Perhaps the memory of that Wesleyan football game last fall still lingers disagreeably in the minds of some of us. We have a score to settle with our Middletown rivals, and the Trinity bleachers showed last Saturday that they were determined to do their part. With such excellent support it was hard to lose. Tomorrow we meet Wesleyan on the track. It has been several more years than we care to mention since Trinity has defeated the cardinal and black on track and field, and if the meet tomorrow should prove a Trinity victory it would almost cancel that football game. Comparative times, though not always safe guides, show that two or three points either way will decide matters. In other words, we have about as good a chance as Wesleyan has to come out on top. Perhaps a big crowd of Trinity rooters down on the field tomorrow afternoon will turn those few points our way. Anyhow it's worth trying. The track team has worked hard and deserves all the backing that the college body can give it.

During the work of grading the north campus this past week, an old parchment was dug up, upon which was scrawled a scarcely decipherable composition. The relic was taken to the studio of one of the students of old English, who had some difficulty in making out the letters, but after considerable work, made out a fair translation. It was written in antique English characters, and seemed to be an extract from a diary of some sort. As far as the investigator was able to read the besmeared writing, the substance of it was as follows:

The morning it was warm and beautiful and the sun he was shining exceeding bright, the grass and the trees were bursting into a bright dress of green, the birds sang and it was very good to be living. So I did stroll up to Trinity to observe how the students did occupy themselves. And I did happen into a library, a place of quiet and study, which could accommodate some thirty men, though methought it parlous overcrowded. "Nay," thought I, "I have observed these men aforetime, but no such studiousness did I ever note in them until this day." And I listened and watched to see what was the cause of it. But I could not discover it.

Now there was at a table at one end a long and slender youth, who, in the uncouth language of these seekers-after-learning, was much "on the go." He did haste about among the books for his fellows, nor did he have opportunity to study himself, only he ran hither and thither continually. And at each table, it seemed, a man did push a pen with much vigor and did pile the pages up beside him. And at this I was much mystified and left the place and did go along the walk which runs before the great building. And I did lend an ear to the conversation of sundry men who walked near me. And one did say to his neighbor, "Done your thesis yet?" And the other did answer with bitterness, "No, I just started the darn thing. Have you?" And the other made reply, "Yes, one of 'em. But I have one in Greek to do yet, and it's a sun-of-a-gun. I've got to write one on the 'Height of seats in Greek Theatres.' Sounds interesting, doesn't it?"

Now was I even more mystified than ever. So I did approach one of the seekers-after-learning, and questioned him, "Tell me, my young friend, what may this thesis thing be which doth so becloud thine eye?" And he replied, "A thesis? A thesis, old boy, is the punishment a man gets for taking a history course." "Don't forget Greek 4, Bill," the other said, "Punishment is about right there. I don't pick any more cinches." And then the first did tell me of the thesis, and how the young men did put it off from day to day until the closeness of examination time caused them to quake and get a hustle on. So I did express my sympathy for him and left. For it did seem a pity that the youths should of necessity forsake their game of baseball and tennis and coop themselves within. Yet were they all philosophers and went about their work without grumbling. For they did say to themselves, "Thank the Lord! Only a month and a half more!"

10 Professional Men:

No class of men need life insurance more than do professional men. As a rule, the income of a professional man is largely, if not wholly, dependent on his brain, and when the activity of the mind ceases, his income ceases, or is at once greatly reduced.

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company offers to the professional man who desires to assure his wife and children for life, or for a specified term of years, the continuance of a substantial part, at least, of the income to which they were accustomed during his lifetime, a contract perfectly suited to these needs.

ALPHA CHI RHO WINS.

Must Play Neutrals or Alpha Delta Phi for Championship.

How severely the loss of Ferris is likely to be felt by Alpha Chi Rho was demonstrated in their game with Sigma Psi on the 14th. Although the Sigma Psi pitcher was found for ten runs, his own team was able to accumulate eight. Wildness was the principal fault of three pitchers tried out by Alpha Chi Rho, Brown, Spencer and Bent. Between them they managed to dispense nine places in five innings, and it was only the heavy hitting of their teammates that saved their skins. The fielding of Kyle, and the batting of Spencer, who snagged a double and single out of three trips to the plate, featured for the winners. For the losers, Johnston connected safely twice in four chances.

This game assured the championship of Division A. Alpha Chi Rho must now play either Alpha Delta Phi or the Neutral Body for the championship of the college, as they are at present tied for the leadership of Division B. Following is the score by innings:

RHE
Alpha Chi Rho, 4 1 1 1 3—10 5 5
Sigma Psi, 3 3 0 0 2—8 7 8

Team Off For Rhode Island.

The Trinity baseball team leaves for Kingston, R. I., Saturday morning, to join battle with the Rhode Island State nine. As little is known of the calibre of the Rhode Island contingent, any attempt at prophecy would be in the nature of speculation. However, if Trinity continues to exhibit the form displayed in Saturday's game with Wesleyan, the team should return with another entry on the right side of the ledger.
